Description

The ACICIS Journalism Professional Practicum (JPP) is a six-week program in Jakarta that combines a formal academic program with a four-week professional placement. The JPP provides a unique opportunity for students of journalism, media and communications, as well as cadet journalists to gain valuable experience working within an international media environment.

The aim of the JPP is to give journalism/communications students or early career professionals the chance to meet the people, experience Indonesian culture, and learn the language of an important actor in the Asia-Pacific region.

The long-term goal of the program is to enhance bilateral understanding through the creation of new partnerships between overseas students and Indonesian counterparts and to serve as a medium for the exchange of ideas and experiences. Participants will also get a taste of the environment in which a foreign correspondent operates and discover the idiosyncrasies of Indonesian journalistic practices.

The guiding principle of the JPP is to have overseas students or early career professionals working within Indonesian host organisations as part of a practical learning process.

Aims

The aims of the JPP are to:

1. Provide students with a practical learning experience with a Host Organisation in a Indonesian journalism, media, or communications workplace environment;
2. To develop students' knowledge of international and Indonesia journalism, media, and communications practices, and the application of these practices within Indonesia's media and communications industry; and
3. To enhance bilateral understanding through the creation of new partnerships between Australian and Indonesian counterparts, and to serve as a medium for the exchange of ideas in the field of journalism, media, and communications.

Supervision

ACICIS' programs in Indonesia operate under the direction of the ACICIS Resident Director, Dr Adrian Budiman.

In addition, an Academic Program Officer (APO) is assigned for the duration of the JPP to oversee all aspects of the program, including the supervision of its academic content. Participating students are also allocated a workplace mentor at their practicum host organisation who will supervise a student's work within the organisation for the duration of the student's practicum placement.

Structure and Schedule of Learning Activities

The structure of the six-week JPP program is as follows:

- ◆ Two weeks of intensive Indonesian language classes at Atma Jaya Catholic University, designed to give participants basic language capacity;

And

- ◆ A series of seminars and fieldtrips led by experts and practitioners from Indonesian and international journalism and media organisations operating within Indonesia;

Followed by

- ◆ A four-week supervised practicum placement designed to give participants an English-speaking professional experience within an Indonesian or international media or communications organisation operating within Indonesia.

Practicum Placement Options and Selection

In their initial program application, students are asked to nominate sectoral interests and preferred professional industry placements. A student's preferences will be considered alongside their academic record, demonstrated skill-set, relevant work experience, future career goals, and Host Organisation requirements in order to assign the student a placement that is appropriate to both student and Host Organisation.

The JPP Academic Program Officer and ACICIS Resident Director manage selection and practicum placement allocation. Host Organisations are encouraged to provide details in advance of preferred or required candidate skill sets for their workplaces.

ACICIS will confer with Host Organisations prior to confirming students' placements. Host Organisations may nominate to review a participant's qualifications or to arrange an interview via Skype (or similar) or phone prior to accepting a practicum candidate.

Educational Principles and Graduate Attributes

Through the JPP, students are encouraged and assisted to:

- ◆ Develop and apply their academic skills and knowledge in a real-life workplace;
- ◆ Make a valued contribution to the Host Organisation;
- ◆ Enhance employability by increasing awareness of employer's expectations of performance and conduct;
- ◆ Enhance their understanding of Indonesian organisational culture;
- ◆ Gain first-hand experience of the challenges of intercultural management and communication; and
- ◆ Establish networks and contacts with professionals working within Indonesia's media and communications sector.

Learning Outcomes

Students who complete the JPP successfully should be able to:

- ◆ Apply discipline-specific knowledge and academic skills to a workplace environment;
- ◆ Identify and respond to real-life journalistic and/or communication issues and problems;
- ◆ Perform tasks set by an employer to a satisfactory standard;
- ◆ Critically reflect and report on their experience in the workplace;
- ◆ Demonstrate sound cross-cultural communication skills and the ability to work effectively within a cross-cultural team; and
- ◆ Respect diversity in a range of academic and professional environments.

Teaching and Learning Strategies

Students undertake an unpaid practicum placement (160 hours) in a work environment in Indonesia under the professional supervision of a Host Organisation mentor as well as the academic supervision of the ACICIS JPP Academic Program Officer. This experience is augmented by a two-week classroom-based course of study conducted at Atma Jaya University - prior to students' practicum placements. This course of study consists of compulsory Indonesian language classes as well as a series of industry seminars and fieldtrips designed to equip students with an understanding of Indonesia's media industry and environment.

Evaluation

Throughout the program, the JPP Academic Program Officer will conduct monitoring visits to each student's workplace to garner feedback from both student and Host Organisation mentor. Upon completion of the program, students are invited to provide specific feedback to the Program Officer through a final debriefing session with fellow students. Students are also asked to complete an anonymous online student feedback survey which assists ACICIS in improving the quality of subsequent programs.

Attendance

Students must attend a minimum of 80% of all language classes, seminars and fieldtrips, as well as the practicum placement to satisfactorily complete the program.

Assessment

Upon completion of the program, the JPP Academic Program Officer provides a student's home university with a two-page 'Student Outcome Evaluation' report detailing a student's academic performance on the program. Student performance will be assessed only as 'Satisfactory' or 'Unsatisfactory' (equivalent to an 'ungraded pass/fail').

The student's Host Organisation workplace mentor is also required to provide a brief report on student's activities and performance while undertaking their placement. This includes evaluation of a student's professional demeanour and conduct, their ability to reflect critically and adapt to issues encountered in the workplace, their approach to work, and their demonstrated cross-cultural communication skills (both oral and written). Assessment of the academic classwork component of the program will be carried out by academic staff at Atma Jaya University and the ACICIS JPP Academic Program Officer.

To complete this program satisfactorily, students must demonstrate the ability to perform tasks in a workplace, at a satisfactory standard, as well as to reflect on the experience and relate it back to their academic studies. Students must attend a minimum of 80% of scheduled language classes, industry seminars and fieldtrips, as well as achieve a mark of at least 60% in the Indonesian language component of the program.

A student's home university retains the right to set and grade other assessment tasks related to the program. While ACICIS makes a recommendation about how much academic credit a student should be awarded for their participation in the program, it is up to individual home universities to determine their own protocols and rules for awarding academic credit to students who undertake and successfully complete the program.

Assessment Mechanisms

The following components are used to inform the ACICIS JPP Academic Program Officer's 'Student Outcome Evaluation' report. Students are required to satisfactorily complete all components in order to achieve an overall grade of 'Satisfactory' for the program:

#	Component	Dates	Weighting	Notes
1	Indonesian Language Classes	4-14 January	10%	Undertaken at Atma Jaya University - assessments administered by Atma Jaya's Language Teaching Centre through weekly assignments and written tests.
2	Seminar Series and Fieldtrips	4-14 January	10%	Attendance at, and participation in, all seminars and fieldtrips organised by ACICIS is required. Evidence of familiarity with set readings will be assessed through seminar participation.
3	Practicum Placement	16 January - 10 February	50%	Practicum Host Organisation mentor to submit an evaluation to the JPP Academic Program Officer (APO); APO to gauge performance based on monitoring visits and discussions with Host Organisation mentor and student.
4	Reflective Journal	16 January - 10 February	10%	Weekly submissions to be submitted electronically by midnight each Friday throughout a student's practicum placement. Evidence of familiarity with set readings will be assessed through student's reflective journal submissions.
5	Thematic Research Essay	10 February	20%	Students to submit a 2,000-word essay on a contemporary issues in the Indonesian media sector to be assessed by the JPP Academic Program Officer.

Assessment Component Details

The JPP is designed to meet the Australian university equivalency requirements of half of a full time semester load (0.25 EFTSL) at ACICIS member universities, and includes the following assessable components:

1. Indonesian Language Classes (40 hours)

Students are required to attend two weeks of intensive classes in Indonesian language and culture at Atma Jaya University in order to develop language skills that will help them operate more effectively in their practicum placements and in the wider Indonesian community. Students will sit a placement test during orientation and be placed in Beginner, Intermediate or Advanced Indonesian language classes at Atma Jaya's Language Teaching Centre based on their placement test results. Language classes are four hours in duration from Monday to Friday for the first two weeks of the program. Students will be assessed on four macro skills areas: Listening, Speaking, Reading and Writing. Students will sit a final language exam and be given a numerical mark for this assessment component. To be awarded an overall 'Satisfactory' grade for the JPP, participants must achieve a mark of at least 60% for this component of the program.

2. Seminar Series and Fieldtrips (30 hours)

The Seminar Series and Fieldtrip component of the JPP consists of seven seminars and one field trip. Students must attend and participate actively in a minimum of 80% of all scheduled seminars and fieldtrips. Prior to each seminar, students are required to complete a number of set readings. Students must demonstrate adequate preparation through informed contributions to discussions and activities in order to pass this component. Lively discussion groups and Q&A sessions will be a key aspect of these sessions.

Please see Appendix I for more detail about this component of the program. A marking rubric for this component of the program is provided in Appendix IV.

3. Practicum placement (160 hours)

Students undertake a supervised practicum placement at a participating Host Organisation. Required tasks will vary depending on the Host Organisation. Without good reason and the permission of their Host Organisation mentor, students must attend their placement during all contracted working hours. Furthermore, students must satisfy both their Host Organisation and the JPP Program Officer that they have performed all assigned tasks to a satisfactory standard. On completion of the practicum, the Host Organisation mentor will be asked to evaluate the student's performance. The mentor will be asked to comment on criteria related to both generic skills (e.g., interpersonal, communication, professionalism, initiative) and discipline-specific knowledge. A marking rubric for this component of the program is provided in Appendix IV.

4. Reflective Journal

The purpose of the Reflective Journal is to encourage critical thinking and reflection from students on their theoretical and vocational learning process while on the JPP. It should serve as a space in which students are able to reflect on the challenges and rewards of working in a cross-cultural professional environment, and guide students' workplace tasks week-to-week based on input from their JPP Academic Program Officer and workplace mentor. The reflective journal should also demonstrate evidence of a students' understanding of set course readings and ability to relate these readings to their practicum experience.

To complete the Reflective Journal, students are required to:

- ◆ Complete a set of required readings on cross-cultural learning and self-reflexive learning. The list of readings is provided in Appendix II.
- ◆ Keep a weekly log of activities and duties performed in the workplace during their practicum placement to be submitted electronically at the end of each week of the placement. Students should provide a brief account (no more than 1-2 paragraphs each day) of observations, challenges, learning experiences, or unexpected outcomes. Students should note down any important meetings they attended or interesting stakeholders with whom they met.
- ◆ Some questions students may like to reflect on at the end of each week might include, but are not limited to:
  - ◇ How did your daily tasks contribute to your project's end goals?
  - ◇ Did you come up against any hurdles this week (and if yes, how did you overcome them?)
  - ◇ How do you find working in a cross-cultural environment?
  - ◇ Do you notice different styles of management or teamwork in your Indonesian workplace compared with your home country?
  - ◇ How does this compare with workplaces in which you have worked previously and what differences are evident?
  - ◇ How does your experience in the workplace compare with your university studies in this field previously?
  - ◇ Describe your organisation's location in the broader context of the Indonesian media and communications industry.
- ◆ Reference and reflect on the set readings and seminar topics.

Students are encouraged to use the Reflective Journal to record and elaborate on the significant issues encountered during each week of their practicum placement, and to talk these through with their Host Organisation mentor and/or the JPP Academic Program Officer wherever possible.

A useful way to complete the Reflective Journal can be for students to complete this in Microsoft Word or Excel as the last task done each day (for 10 -15 minutes) prior to leaving the office. Students can then – on Fridays – allocate around 20 minutes to jot down their longer weekly reflections.

Weekly logs are to be submitted electronically by midnight each Friday during the practicum placement.

A template for the Reflective Journal is provided in Appendix II. A marking rubric for this assessment component of the JPP is provided in Appendix IV.

5. Thematic Research Essay: 2,000 words

Students are required to complete a 2,000-word research essay on a contemporary theme relating to the Indonesian media and communications sector. The aim of the thematic research essay is to encourage students to think critically about contemporary media in Indonesia. A list of essay topics for students to choose from is provided in Appendix III. Alternatively, students may request permission to work on an alternative topic, with the approval of the JPP Academic Program Officer. In writing the essay, students are expected to draw on a range of secondary sources (academic journal articles, research papers, books and online articles) as well as their own experience of observing and participating in the Indonesian media industry first-hand through the JPP program. An outline of this assignment can be found in Appendix III. A marking rubric for this assessment component of the JPP is provided in Appendix IV.

Award of Grade for the Course

Both the student and the student's home university will receive a copy of the JPP Academic Program Officer's student outcome evaluation report as well as an official academic transcript from Atma Jaya University. These assessment documents will be sent (electronically in the case of the student and by post in the case of a student's home university) from the ACICIS Secretariat in Perth within six weeks of a student's completion of the program. The home university may choose to award a numerical grade or an ungraded pass/fail on the basis of these documents and any additional home university assessment requirements for the program.

Detailed marking rubrics for assessment items 3, 4 and 5 (practicum placement, reflective journal, and practicum report) are provided in Appendix IV. These rubrics are provided as background information to students and home university course coordinators regarding how the ACICIS JPP Academic Program Officer assesses these particular assessment items and their contribution to a student's overall grade of 'Satisfactory' or 'Unsatisfactory' for the program.

This is a very different environment I'm looking forward to seeing how an Indonesian organisation operates compared to its Australian counterpart.  ◆ AUTHOR NAME (Year) argues that newspapers are already a thing of the past. I don't get a sense of that in Indonesia, as I noticed this week that... ## Appendix III: Thematic Research Essay Outline

Assessment:

As part of the overall assessment load for the JPP program, students are required to complete a 2,000-word research essay on a contemporary topic relating to the Indonesian media and communications sector. The aim of the thematic research essay is to encourage students to think critically about the contemporary media industry in Indonesia, drawing from a range of secondary sources (academic journal articles, research papers, books and online articles) as well as the experience of observing and participating in the Indonesian media and communications sector first-hand through the JPP program.

Students are to choose one of the following topics to serve as the basis for their essay:

1. Media ownership
2. Politics and the media
3. The digital economy and new media
4. Media and press freedom
5. Women in Indonesian media

Alternatively, students may suggest their own topic, in consultation with, and the approval of, the JPP Academic Program Officer.

In this essay, a student will select their main topic, design a research question, and then critically examine their chosen topic by drawing on both media and communications theory and the student's experiences on the JPP. An example of the structure of the essay will be provided.

Learning Outcomes:

Following the completion of the thematic research essay, students should be able to:

- ◆ Identify a contemporary media or communications issue in Indonesia, and its related sub-issues;
- ◆ Analyse the history and background context of this issue in Indonesia;
- ◆ Situate the issue in the contemporary Indonesian context, and identify the key stakeholders involved;
- ◆ Critically reflect on the relationship between theory and practice;
- ◆ Identify and analyse how the activities of their practicum Host Organisation relate to this issue; and
- ◆ Offer recommendations or suggestions as to how this issue might be addressed or developed in Indonesia in the future, based on the academic literature and a student's own observations while on the JPP.

Weighting & Grading:

The thematic research essay is worth 20% of a student's overall participation mark on the JPP program, along with Atma Jaya language classes (10%), seminar and fieldtrip attendance (10%), Reflective Journal (10%) and practicum placement (50%). In accordance with ACICIS' final grading of 'Satisfactory' or 'Unsatisfactory', the thematic research essay will be graded on a 'pass/fail' basis with extensive feedback provided by the JPP Academic Program Officer on topic selection, analysis, quality and breadth of case studies and references used, and insightfulness of observations drawn from a student's own experience on the JPP.

Students are advised to consult with the JPP Academic Program Officer by the end of the two-week academic program (language classes and seminar series) regarding topic selection and suitability to individual JPP placements. Please do this by: Friday, 13 January, 2023.

Formatting & Referencing:

Students should format their essays in Calibri or Times New Roman font, 11 or 12 point; double spaced and justified. The essay must be completed to an academic standard. Students should include a bibliography with standard Harvard referencing (including page numbers). Footnotes can be included if they are relevant to, and support, the argument. Students are advised to consult their home university learning resource pages for more information on academic referencing.

Deadlines:

- ◆ Consult with JPP APO on topic selection and suitability no later than: Friday, 13 January, 2023.
- ◆ The essay is due: midnight at 12, Friday, 10 February, 2023; by email to the JPP APO.
